Sex In Dallas

Around The War

Sex in Dallas (Adrienne Walter, Jean Marc Soulat & Mohini Gesiweiller) are french born electro slackers, they have replaced guitars by samples, a 4 track recorder by a laptop, and instead of staying in bed all day, they stay up all day and night to hang out in bars and clubs not to miss any input. The last years they have sucked up a lot of input, that is outpoured on their longplayer Around the War. It could be the soundtrack of your life.

Founded 2003 in Paris and driven by the idea to make a different sound compared to Daft Punk, Air, Phoenix and typical french house music that made french electronic music so popular. Following their highly recommend (John Peel, Laurent Garnier, Trevor Jackson, Andrew Weatherall, Miss Kittin & Mark Moore just to name a few) 12 inches Everybody Deserves To Be Fucked and Berlin Rocks 1 +2 with Remixes by The Hacker, French Fragz, Tomcat in Tokyo, Stewart Walker, The Architect, Sammy Dee, Whignomy Brothers this debut full lenth album celebreated its release on 12. July 2004.

It creates an unexpected darkness, but not frightening rather embracing like a Nick Drake song. Adrienne, Jean Marc, and Mohini combined Punk, House, Hip Hop, Detroit Techno and turn it into a dark but groovy electronic longplayer. They were and are Influenced by New Order, Aphex Twin, Grandmaster Flash, Sex Pistols, Juan Atkins, John Carpenter, Georgio Moroder, Outkast.
